

For magnetic parts supplies, we have already confirmed with our key preferred and approved winding houses in South China [and yes, only South China] that they and their [including P1's] related approved material suppliers [including key materials such as magnetic cores, copper wires and plastic bobbins] are not affected by the Olympic venues which are located in the region within a radii of 200km from Beijing, China.

Please assure our customers that the Beijing Olympic Season has no impact to P1's magnetic parts supplies for our global production facilities at large.
